Cleaner Water. Brighter Streams. Better Fishing.

Monthly Meeting

Learn the Ins and Outs of Fly Fishing the Surf

Our speaker for the July SDDF general meeting will be Al Quattrocchi also known as Al Q.

Al was born in Brooklyn, New York where he developed his love for fishing early in his childhood while living in Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn. After moving to California in the late seventies to attend college he was later inspired to switch to the fly rod and fly fish the surf after years of reading articles written by his mentors; Lefty Kreh, Bob Popovics, Lou Tabory, Ed Jaworowski and Nick Curcione.

“Fly Fishing the surf can be one of

FUNDRAISER WRAP UP AND THANK YOU

ONE THOUSAND, SEVEN HUNDRED SIXTEEN RAFFLE TICKETS SOLD: That’s how many our members and their guests bought to win some great prizes, but more importantly to support some very worthy local and California conservation and fly fishing causes.

On behalf of our beneficiaries, and recipients of our assistance, your Board of Directors and I congratulate all of you and your guests for the huge number cited above; and for purchasing every single item in the Silent Auction, resulting in another successful fundraiser with gross revenue of nearly $10,000, and net proceeds approaching $7,000.

Many thanks are in order starting with our member donors led by the ever present Stroud’s Tackle for a rod/reel outfit and a deep discount on our purchases; Jon Holland for two amazing bamboo fly rods; Don Rutherford for a fully equipped pontoon boat; Lew Walsh for two rods, a reel, a chest pack and a gift certificate; Barry Perchesky for his beautiful pottery; Paula Beck for so many books and other stuff I can’t list it all; Art Dilley for the fly tying cabinet; Louie Zimm for a trip on the 30’ Shearwater; Bruce Harris for his hand blown glass art; Lucky Ketcham and his crew in the Fly Tying Congress for five boxes full of flies; The Presidents’ Club composed of our President and his predecessors for five gift certificates; Bob Berry for a beautiful Golden Trout carving; Gretchen Yearous; Warren Lew; Jim and Pat Behrend; Jim Tenuto; Wayne Allen; and Nancy Pitts.

Cheryl Cline (with Raffle Chairman Jack Duncan) was the lucky winner of the grand prize 7-1/2’, 3-4 wt. bamboo rod custom made by SDDF Club member Jon Holland.

We couldn’t enjoy the success we do without the support of many donors from outside the club: the lodges, Cuyamaca Lake and Rainbow Terns; Simms Waders; Ross Rods and Reels; Classic Accessories for a Tioga pontoon boat; NuCast Corp. for a reel w/line; Buff, Inc to keep the sun off; Glacier Gloves; Big Y Fly Company; Aspen Reels for two reels and a bunch of

The final numbers are in and our profit from the Annual Raffle and Silent Auction was a freckle under $8,000. While the money we brought in was a bit lower than last year's record setting event, the profits are nearly identical and that means local and state conservation groups will once again benefit from the generosity of San Diego Fly Fishers.

Now a roll call to thank those who made the evening a success. You see, as a general member you walk in and see 78 prizes arrayed for the raffle and nearly three dozen silent auction items and it's like they just appeared out of nowhere. Most people can't grasp the amount of work that it takes to pull off this kind of event.

First and foremost I have to thank Jack Duncan, this Raffle Chair. Jack, start picking out the place on the wall for your fly plate. Jack treated the club's money like it was his own. He ran a tight, efficient, and frugal ship. He got the most difficult ways to fish, period! I really enjoy being able to help people transition into the surf fly fishing game. I believe that if you learn the correct methods of fly fishing the surf, you can do it anywhere in the world and not be frustrated. I have close to forty years fishing the beach." ----Al Q more prizes out of the money he spent than many a recent raffle chair. And then he drafted his lovely wife, Linda, as the official drum-turner-and-ticket-picker-outer.

Next, kudos to our Treasurer, Bruce Harris, who lined up the Southwestern Yacht Club and then manned the credit card purchases. The yacht club has become a great home away from home for our club. They even designated a smoking area for the "pre-meeting" and dinner was tasty and a great value.

The first person you probably saw when you arrived was our tireless ticket hawkette, Gordie Zimm. And helping her as the roaming ticket hawkker, Fred Gregory.

Don Davis leapt right into the fire, assigning himself in his role of making sure the emcee was giving away the right gift, moving all 78 raffle prizes into hand. Lee McIlravey had a wicked spreadsheet and kept the books.

Art Reifman and his able-bodied assistants, Gary Strawn and Alan Thompson, ran the Silent Auction tables. We had a large number of (wonderful) items, including a 9-foot pontoon boat and one of Jon Holland's bamboo fly rods. (A special tip of SDFP logoed cap to JH, who is becoming quite a craftsman and always provides two rods to the club at an insanely low price.)

And finally, Paul Woolery, who quietly roams the sidelines like a head coach and keeps us all running in top form.

OK, maybe not finally...if you bought a ticket to help support our efforts, regardless of whether you won a prize or didn't (and there were a few people who couldn't stop winning!) thank you. Your generosity is the culmination of all this work.

The July meeting is the final one before our short hiatus. Remember, the club doesn't have a formal meeting in August. Some of us, armed with kitchen passes, will be keeping the first Monday tradition alive somewhere. You can bet that there might be a cigar involved.

clippers; Regal Engineering for a fly tying vice; Krieger Enterprises for DVD's; Dr. Slick; Frogg Toggs; Anglers Book Supply for a lot of great reading; Orvis for some special flies; Chota, Inc. and Jim Teeny. These donors are friends of the Club and its beneficiaries. In appreciation we, as members, should patronize them whenever possible.

Thanks to the crew who took us through the night of the event without a bump in the road.

At the head table: Jim Tenuto for his usual great job as MC, Don Davis, the runner, Linda Duncan for pulling the tix and Lee McElravy for handling the accounting.

At the door: Bruce Harris, Gordie Zimm, Shelly Wagner for selling tickets and getting everyone checked in; and Fred Gregory the roving ticket seller.

The silent auction team led by Art

Reifman: Allan Thompson, Gary Strawn and Paul Woolery. This was the best organized silent auction we've ever had.

Finally, personal thanks to those who helped me through the entire process: Jim Tenuto and Lee McElravy for their leadership; David Collins, Rose and Roger Yamasaki for getting the word out; Bruce Harris for his counsel and advice; Paul Woolery for picking up the mail and lots of other help; Art Reifman for his counsel and advice; and Fred Gregory for helping me with ticket sales at both meetings and at the event.

The many individuals listed above who helped; and the companies and individuals who donated were extremely important to the success of the event. But the most important group, and the biggest thanks goes to the general membership and your guests, for showing you care greatly about fly fishing and the places you have to go to do it.

The SDFF Thursday Night Fly Tying Group Donates Hundreds of Flies for the Annual Raffle

Lucky Ketcham

Our Thursday night fly tying group has been very generous donating hundreds of good flies and filling five fly boxes that will be included in to the annual raffle.

Thank you for the extra effort — Feather Benders. Many of the new fly tiers now know they can crank out good flies in 4 or 5 minutes. That is a rewarding experience by itself.

I just finished putting most of the flies donated by the SDFF Fly Tying Congress, Feather Benders — into 5 nice fly boxes.

I am very proud of our donation this year because it was really a group effort. Fly tying students as well as the old timers contributed their time and skills for this project.

If we did not believe in our Conservation Program, we would not take the time and effort to tie these flies for you.

I calculate that we have donated 294 small flies and 43 large flies, at $22 and $28 per dozen the fly shop retail value would be approximately $645. Not too shabby for bits of fur and feather and time.

Wayne Allen set the pace this year donating over 153 Kern River Special's and Nymphs designed for the Kern River. See photo 2013 to see how precisely Wayne ties flies.

Photo 2014 has a small fly box of 101 flies, mostly tied by Lucky Ketcham. It features Tiger Midges, Caddis larvae, Triple Double dry flies, Humpies, Griffith gnats and flies that should catch fish for you.

Value is approximately $190.

Photo 2014

Photo 2015 the big streamer box with flies by Bob Pharoah and a dozen of the Norb Spitzer Miramar Special's has 43 flies $110 plus the $7 Stroud Tackle Fly Box.

Photo 2015

Photo 2017 has a selection of flies donated by Bob Pharoah and Lucky Ketcham. It includes: Ken Hanley Furred Damsels, Whitlock Hoppers, Stimulators, Butt Ugly Hopper, Prince Nymphs, Soft Hackle Pheasant tails, Brown Drake extended body dry flies, more stone fly stimulators, Black Gnats, Humpies, Quill Bodied Mayflies, and some Ray Charles Scuds. Remember a Blind Man can catch trout with a Ray Charles Scud. The box has 57 flies with a value of $110. (Lower value – but... they are dry flies. :)

Wild Trout Pools on Boulder Creek

Early in June, Russell Barabe ( CDFW Fisheries Biologist and SDFF Member ) and I had the pleasure of taking Deborah Brennan from the Union Tribune and a photographer up to the Wild Trout pools on Boulder Creek. She wrote a fine article you can read at:

<http://www.utsandiego.com/news/2013/Jun/07/boulder-creek-wild-trout/2/?#article-copy>

Unfortunately, the credit I tried to get for the Fly Fishing Clubs' contributions didn't make the cut.

Although we saw trout, they were in the deeper pools and Russell couldn't scare any up for a photo opportunity. Paul Woolery, Bruce Michaels and I went back up the next evening to try to catch one. Paul caught one on his Tenkara rig, but I fell down trying to get a photo, so they remain "undocumented".

These are mostly small fish and the drought conditions are really stressing the population. I don't think this will be a viable fishing venue for some time, but as the article points out, their presence is a good indication of the health of the upper San Diego River Watershed. Hopefully, with the improved access provided by the new land purchases, made possible by your donations and support of the SDFF Annual Raffle, Russell and the other scientist can track and learn a lot about the local fish population and its movements.

We will keep you posted on the advancements and any volunteer opportunities that may come up.

Thursday Night Fly Tiers

Photo 2018 is another small Stroud Tackle Fly Box ($5) with an assortment of 98 flies tied by the Feather Benders. The Sailor Ants were tied by Boy Scouts or were demonstration flies from the Boy Scout Faire 2013. It is a good mix of flies that you would want to fish anywhere in the world. Black Woolly Buggers, Zug Bugs, Hare's Ears, small Whitlock Hopper, Prince Nymphs, Pheasant tails, Soft Hackles, Dry flies: Ants, Black Gnats, CDC Caddis, Elk Hair Caddis, Sierra Bright Dot, Serendipity, PMD Emerger, Brown deer hair beetles, Soft hackles and Ray Charles Scuds. These flies were tied by many of the Feather Benders. Estimated Retail Value is $180.

Learn to tie these fly patterns from Chuck Waterman and his crew at GSF, Peter Piconi's Fly Shop or at the Thursday Night SDFF Fly Tying Congress.

Catching fish on flies that you have tied yourself — is part of the unique challenge of fly fishing. Catching fish that have been tied by your friends — is another.

Thank you to all the Feather Benders on the Behalf of Jack Duncan, 2013 Raffle Chair Person, Friend and Mentor.

Good work Jack!

FLY OF THE MONTH

San Juan Worm - Red Thread

- Hook: Curved, English bait hook, Mustad 37160, size 6 and 12 pictured
- Thread: 6/0 or 8/0 fine white thread for lead under-wrap. Red or fluorescent orange heavy thread, Coats and Clark button and coat thread or size A nylon rod wrapping thread, Gudebrod. Round and hard.
- Underbody: Lead wire or substitute
- Rib: Fine or Ultra Fine gold wire

This is a variation of San Juan Worm that Bob McKay caught some nice Big Horn River trout in July 2007. The worm was valuable on this river as it was easy to clean off the fine floating algae. A chenille worm quickly was coated with algae and was difficult to clean without destroying the delicate chenille. This streamlined body sinks to the bottom faster than the chenille worm and is useful in fast riffles 1 to 2 foot deep.

Flies by Bob McKay, SDFF.
Photos by Lucky Ketcham

Mount the hook with the eye up at a 45 degree angle, for better thread control weight the fly with fine lead wire starting about  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch from the eye and bend. You may wrap tight wraps of fine lead or pick a larger lead wire section and mount it on the top of the hook shank. If you use the larger lead, try to make a smooth transition by cutting the lead strip at a long angle on each end. Attach the very fine thread at the hook eye and wrap back on the point of the lead strip. If necessary smash the soft lead tip with your fingernail. Catch the tip and wrap the thread back over the lead, keeping it on top of the hook shank. Wrap to the far end of the lead strip, filling in any bumps. The red thread photo above shows a poor transition, resulting from cutting the lead at 90 degrees. It is a commercial guide fly, tied for speed and utility.

For your own fly box, "take the bumps out." The above photo shows the lead under-body with fine lead wire. It has a nice transition made of fine thread on both ends of the coils. Wrap a thin cocoon of fine thread over the lead and coat with head cement.

Attach a bobbin of heavy round red or orange nylon thread at the lower end of the lead transition. With a few wraps of the fine thread, attach two inches of fine or ultra fine gold wire in the same method. Whip finish the fine white thread and cut off. Wrap the heavy red thread down almost to the hook bend and vise head. Put the rib in a material keeper or spring. Wrap a smooth thread body forward covering the lead underbody.

When you get to the end of the lead and thread transition, make a half hitch over the hook shank before ribbing the body. Wrap the fine gold wire in open wraps up to the half hitch. Tie down the red rib wrapping several layers of thread forming a bump about  $\frac{1}{2}$  inches from the eye. This thread bump represents the Clitellum of the worm. Cut off the excess wire.

Wrap the thread to the hook eye. Whip finish forming a small head. Trim the thread. Coat the thread body with thin head cement to make it shiny and durable. The thin cement will make the fine ridges of the heavy thread look like the fine segments of the worm. For some worms it would be better to tie the red or orange body and then wrap the Clitellum with a tan or pink thread on top of the red body. Just add the bump of different colored thread and whip finish on the bump.

HELP WANTED

The Southwest Council Federation of Fly Fishers (SWC FFF) is in need of someone to coordinate some of our events. One of the purposes of the Council is to increase outreach to the general public. Some of these events include the Fred Hall Show in both Long Beach and Del Mar, Sport Chalet, Fly Fishing Film Tour and others that come our way throughout the year. The job would be to keep track of these events, decide how many and what type of volunteers are needed for each one and generally be the liaison between the Council and these groups.

If you are the type to help us create a movement towards more fly anglers in SoCal and Southern Nevada, we want you.

This description makes it sound like a full time job. In reality, would only take a few hours each month. For more information, contact Michael Schweit president@southwestcouncilfff.org. Please join us in this quest to show everyone we have the greatest sport around.

The Gordon Foster Kiosk Repair

The Kiosk at Lake Murray has been the Gateway to the San Diego Fly Fishers Club for many years. The classes held there each Sunday have provided “Hands-On” instruction to many potential Fly Fishers who share an interest in the out-doors and love of fishing. The Kiosk has been a proud symbol and gathering place for members as well as students of all ages who want to learn the art of Fly Fishing. But, the Kiosk began to show it’s age and was in need of repair. It was brought to the attention of Paul Woolery that the Kiosk was termite infested and needed the wood replaced and repainted.

Paul got the Board’s approval to go ahead with the repair and repaint. The removal of the infested lumber was started with the help of Rubin, the Lake Keeper and club member, Jim Litchfield. After the removal of the infested wood, the structure and slab were power washed. Then, a couple of days later, both Rubin and Jim worked on replacing the wood timbers.

The next move was to have a “Painting Party”. So, the call went out to Club Members. The following Sunday at 7:30 A.M., a five man crew, including members, Jim Litchfield, Lucky Ketcham, Don Smith, Bruce Bechard and Lee Anderson, got the structure painted.

The Project was completed when on the following Wednesday, Jim Litchfield and his Son installed the shade screen. The Gordon Foster Kiosk now stands like new, and will continue to be the Gateway for the art of Fly Fishing for many years to come.
